

INSTIL DESIGN DESIGNER HAS BEEN NOMINATED AS A FINALIST AT THE 2017 NATIONAL KITCHEN AND BATHROOM AWARDS

Local Oxfordshire designer Martina Landhed, of InStil Design, has been nominated as a finalist in the Bathroom Designer of the Year – Project Cost Between £10,000 and £25,000 - category at this year's prestigious kbbreview Retail & Design Awards. Entered annually by the very best in the kitchen and bathroom business nationwide, the ceremony is organised by kbbreview, the industry's leading trade magazine for over 30 years.

Martina Landhed, Design Director for InStil Design, says: "It was a pleasure to transform a very dated bathroom into a contemporary luxurious bathroom with spa-inspired features. To create a spacious shower and steam room with plenty of storage made this old fashioned bathroom into something rather special. My aim always is to inspire and help the customer to realise the potential with their bathroom and to be able to take their dreams and turn them into reality whilst offering as personal service as possible. I am extremely delighted to have reached the finals of the kbbreview Awards for a second time."

Tim Wallace, editor of kbbreview says: "After the phenomenal success of last year's event, we are thrilled to see this enthusiasm carried through to 2017. We always receive an abundance of submissions, but this year was the biggest response we've ever seen. The entrants are of the very highest standard, and have undergone a rigorous judging process by our panel of industry professionals.

"We would therefore like to extend our congratulations to Martina on being nominated as a finalist in their category, and wish her the very best of luck going forward."

Winners will be announced by the traditional opening of an envelope at the glittering, black tie gala dinner taking place on Monday 27th March at the Hilton Birmingham Metropole.
